My Own.

The hand that I so fondly clasp Within my own, Must ne'er have thrilled to any grasp, Save mine alone.

The lips that mine so lightly press; Must never know. From other lips the soft caress, That mine bestow,

The form that I with rapture fold In twining arms, Once circled by another's hold; Would lose its charms. If ever on another's breast, Had lain thy head,

The glory of each golden tress

For me were flel.

The maiden blushes on thy cheek That come and go, And deepen when of love I speak In whispers low,

If kindled by another's touch' Or voice or eyes: Would lose the charm which now so much I love and prize.

The heart that yields itself to me And owns my power, Until my coming let it be

A tolded flower, And in the love-light of my eyes, Each leaf unclose. To find itself, with sweet surprise, A perfect rose.

The Turnpike Tax. On the first Monday in August, the people of this county voted down the proposition to levy a tax on the property holders for the purpose of constructing pikes in different portions of the county. From the official record we have observed, with much surprise, that the proposition was lost the votes of men living, for the most part, remote from the pikes already constructed. Those living contiguous to turn-pikes very generally voted in tavor of the levying or a tax. This is surprising. We had believed that the men who are without the advantages a pike affords, would have been the first to cast their votes in favor of a proposition that would have secured for them good roads to their county-seat; and if any objection to such an appropriation were urged, it would have come from those who are already enjoying the benefits of pikes. Why a poor man living remote from any pike, who would have had no tax to pay even if the proposition had been sustained, should cast his vote against a tax of this kind, surpasses our comprehension. But in Kentucky, every man has the right, once more, to vote as he pleases, and we have no right to complain. But we will take the liberty of saying that these men, in our judgement, voted against their most palpable interests, when they defeated a proposition which would have enabled them to construct good roads in the place of the continued series of mud holes through which they are obliged to trudge during a portion of the year.

Besides, the tax which was proposed to be levied on the taxable property of the county for building such roads, was so insignificant, that when compared with the advantages to be derived from a turn-pike, the objections urged against it possess no force entitled to any serious consideration.

The act empowering the County court to make appropriations for building turn-pikes provided that the "Moore Fund," which is now lying idle, might be borrowed, and interest, at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, be paid thereon by the county. This fund is about $18,000; the interest, therefore, would be $1,080, per annum, which is the amount for which the county would have been taxed.

The county court, we presume, ex. they are full of self-condemnation, pends more than that amount in repairing the public roads throughout the county. These dirt roads are constantly in need of fresh repairs. Turn. pikes when once thoroughly completed, insure good permanent roads, and generally produce a dividend. A turnpike in Harrison county will guarantee an income sufficiently large to satisfy the interest on $750 to every mile appropriated. The tax would have been withdrawn as soon as any pike so constructed would have become self-supporting.

The interest accruing from this borrowed fund would have been ap- York, 415 miles, 7 dollars and 25cts. @2 50 per head for lambs. Robertson has but recently entered her name as one of our sister counties, and if this solid little fellow is a fair specimen of her rising generation, she has cause to congratulate herself. Such men as this young chap is going to make one day, will never be compelled "to yield to superior force."

The common council have closed up all the drinking saloons and hotel bars, on the Sabbath. We doubt their right to close a hotel bar. They are a State affair, and claim protection under a State license. Our council should know and understand all the powers and rights of which they are possessed, and never go beyond the bounds of duty. Landlords say that the bar is a part of the hotel, and that to close a portion closes all, and that it they are prohibited from giving drink they are also prohibited from furnishing something to eat on the Sabbath They may be right, but we dont believe the position is tenable.

Public Sale.

Land, Stock, Crop, &c., &c. AS ADMINISTRATOR WITH THE will annexed of John Wesley Lair, dec'd, I will expose to sale to the highest bidder.

The following real and personal estate,

220 Acres of Land,

Being the farm owned and occupied by the deceased at the time of his death. The farm is situated on South Licking River. four miles south of Cynthiana, just opposite to Lair's Station on the K. C. R. R., the house being about one half mile from the depot. There is a comfortable house, stone and frame, on the farm, containing eight rooms; good cellar, plenty of good well and cistern water; there is also a good barn, ice house, smoke house and other good out buildings. An abundance of small fruit, and a good young orchard of choice fruit just in bearing. All of the land, except the timber land, is in the very best state of enlitivation, having been managed with extraordinary care; it is tree from weeds, washes or points, and being naturally rich and productive, mostly bottom land, it may be truly said that there is no better farm in Kentucky. A sufficient sum of money has already been subscribed to make a turnpike trom Lair's Station to Cynthiana, which pike, when completed, will pass within 200 ya, ds of the dwelling house. All persons desirous of purchasing one of the most healthy, one of the most pleasant homes in Kentucky are requested to call and examine the premises for themselves. Immedi-stock, crop and farming implements.

TERMS.—The land will be sold for one half eash in hand, the ballance in twelve months from date, with a lien to secure its payment. The deed will be made on recelpt of the first payment, and possession

The personal property will be sold upon a credit of four months for all sums over $20, that sum and under each in hand. Notes with approved security, negotiable and payable at the branch of the Commercial Bank in Cynthiana, will be required before any of the property is removed.
